Sunday - Athens - Old Epidaurus

Epidaurus is mostly famous for its Ancient Theatre. This theatre was constructed in the late 4th century BC to host religious ceremonial events in honor of god Asclepius, whose healing center was located a few steps away. Famous for its symmetry and incredible acoustics

Monday - Epidaurus - Poros

The town of Poros is built in the shape of an amphitheatre over two hills. Lush pine trees vegetation, crystal clear beaches, a lively waterfront adorned with shops, cosy cafes and restaurants, a picturesque capital (it has been declared protected settlement) with grand traditional mansions and picturesque cobbled streets.

Tuesday - Poros - Spetses

The island of the aromas! Spetses, at just 54 nautical miles from Athens, is a picturesque, car-free island with a unique architecture, naval history and culture. The island flourished during the early 18th century, developing into a significant naval power, dominating the major shipping routes of the Mediterranean. Today, the two-hundred year old captains' mansions lining the coast are testimony to the vast wealth and grandeur of that time.

Wednesday - Spetses - Hydra

Hydra the one of the most romantic destinations in Greece. Traditional stone mansions, narrow cobblestoned streets, secluded squares and above all the banning of cars and the use of around 500 donkeys as means of public transportation, explain the reason why Hydra preserved its distinctive atmosphere through the passage of time.

Thursday - Hydra - Aegina

Even though the island is small, it boasts a great number of sights and natural beauties. The island's highlight is the famous Aphaia Temple. It forms in fact an equilateral triangle with the Parthenon and the Temple of Poseidon at Sounion, the so-called "holy triangle" of the antiquity. Aegina town, the capital of the island, stands out for its well-preserved buildings. On the outskirts you can find charming little villages with distinctive traditional character.

Friday - Aegina - Moni - Athens

A visit to the island of Moni, opposite Aegina, is highly recommended for nature, sun & sea lovers. Enjoy it's fantastically clean waters and beautiful nature with its animals, the only inhabitants of the island.
